Bach's Christmas Oratorio

Saturday 8 December 2018, Brussels

BachWerk choir and orchestra perform the wonderful seasonal highlight, the Christmas Oratorio by J. S. Bach under the baton of conductor Joris Verschueren, and featuring soloists Gilles Thomas (Countertenor) and Florian Fuckner (Tenor).

This year's concert includes a selection from across the six cantatas, with particular focus on the latter part of this great work.

We expect this concert to be very popular and to sell out well in advance. For tickets go to our website (www.bachwerk.be) or click the link below. Book soon to avoid disappointment!

About the conductor....

Belgian countertenor and conductor, Joris Verschueren, was born in Dendermonde. He studied singing at the Royal Conservatoire of Brussels under the tutelage of Belgian soprano, Lena Lootens.

He has been involved in several recordings including Bach Cantatas with Il Gardellino and Marcel Ponsele, and contemporary work by Hans Van Daele.

Joris has performed with BachWerk several times as countertenor in Bach's Mass in B Minor and Bach's Christmas Oratorio. He first conducted BachWerk in a performance of Benjamin Britten's A Ceremony of Carols for choir and solo harp in 2016, and BachWerk choir and orchestra for Bach's Christmas Oratorio (cantatas 1, 2, 4 and 6) last year.
